

Quiz questions

- 1: Since the late 1990s how has the number of hungry people in the world changed?
A) 150 million fewer hungry people
B) 150 million more hungry people
C) The same number of hungry people as today (Lappe, 2013; Weis, 2013)
- 2: Does the world produce enough food to feed the population?
A) No- the world produces half the food needed
B) No- the world produces three quarters of the food needed
C) Yes- one and a half times enough (Holt-Gimenez et al, 2012)
- 3: Globally, what percentage of pregnancies are unintended?
A) 20% B) 30% C) 40% (Engelman, 2011 in Lappe, 2013)
- 4: How many times more water is required to produce 1kg of meat, compared to 1kg of grain?
A) 10 times
B) 100 times
C) 1,000 times (Goodland, 1997)
- 5: What percentage of world grain is fed to livestock?
A) 50% B) 20% C) 10% (Vasal, 2004 in Lappe, 2013)
- 6: What percentage of world wealth is controlled by the richest 2%?
A) 2% B) 50% C) 25% (Davies et al, 2008 in Lappe, 2013)
- 7: 50% of CO2 emissions are produced by industrialised wealthy countries. What percentage of world population do such countries contain?
A) 5%
B) 15%
C) 35% (UNEP, 2007 in Lappe, 2013)
- 8: Between 1961 and 2009 the area of the world devoted to soya feed crops...
A) Doubled
B) Tripled
C) Quadrupled (Weis, 2013)

Answers and references over the page

Answers:

1B, 2C, 3C, 4B, 5A, 6B, 7B, 8C

References:

Goodland R. 1997. Environmental sustainability in agriculture: diet matters. Ecological Economics. 23(3): 189-200.

Holt-Gimenez E, Shattuck A, Altieri M, Herren H, Gliessman S. We Already Grow Enough Food for 10Billion People... and Skill Can't End Hunger. Journal of Sustainable Agriculture. 36(6): 595-598.

Lappe F. 2013. Beyond the scarcity scare: reframing the discourse on hunger with an eco-mind. Journal of Peasant Studies. 40(1): 219-238.

Weis T. 2013. The meat of the global food crisis. Journal of Peasant Studies. 40(1): 65-85.

